

2. This paper consists of ONE (1) PROBLEM SOLVING question.
3. Answer ALL questions.
4. Answer in English.
10. The maximum number of words for each question (excluding references and diagrams) should not be exceeded.
11. Appropriate references should be provided for each of the question.
12. The format of the citation and bibliography should be according to the Vancouver style using the EndNote referencing software (or similar programmes).
13. When referencing sources from the website or webpages, except for peer-reviewed journals, the access date should be included as the referencing information.
14. The bibliography should be located at the end of all the questions.

(This question paper consists of 1 question on 2 printed pages)

PROBLEM SOLVING

Answer ALL of the following:

1. Read the article by Wong et al, Risk Factors of Malnutrition among Pre-school Children in Terengganu: A Case Control Study. Based on the findings from this article and the conclusion in (a), answer the following questions:

- (a) Apply the positive deviance approach (PDA) to develop a programme to improve the nutritional status of children in low-income community.

(50 marks)

(maximum word count: 1500)

- (b) Critically assess the three major pathways in which these proposed programs can be institutionalized within the society, using Institutional Theory. Please include recommendations on how the programs can be institutionalized based on existing policies/ programs.

(50 marks)

(maximum word count: 1500)

END